Join us in an international gathering to discuss Service Learning and Co-creation in International contexts & celebrate the launch of the Aurora Service Learning Toolbox

You are invited to participate in the International Learning Lab on 17th June 2021 [15:30 to 18:30 CEST]. The online event brings together students, teachers, societal stakeholders, and experts from various countries all over the world to exchange lessons on engagement in education and research learnt from various international contexts. We also launch the Aurora Service Learning Toolbox, a toolbox on service learning with resources available in four languages, developed by and for Aurora Universities.

The event includes talks and workshops from international experts on service learning, including keynote address from Prof. Robert Bringle (USA), Prof. Wolfgang Stark (Germany), and Prof. Marjolein Zweekhorst (Netherlands). The event hosts multiple interactive talks/workshops on three thematic streams related to service learning in international contexts (Stream A: Health & Wellness; Stream B: Sustainability & Digitalization; Stream C: International Service Learning). Students from 15 countries and 7 universities - ranging from Brazil to Indonesia – will also present the outcome of their interdisciplinary community service learning projects.
